TEAM NOTES AGAINST COLORADO

- Saturday's match will be the 42nd all-time meeting between the Revs and Rapids, who are two of the founding teams of MLS. The Revs are 13-19-9 so far in the series.
- Saturday's match will be the first – and only – time that the two teams meet in 2015. This is the fourth straight season that the teams will meet only once.
- The home side has won each of the last three meetings between the Revs and Rapids.
- New England is just 3-13-4 on the road against the Rapids, including an 0-3-3 record at Dick's Sporting Goods Park. The Revs' last win in Colorado came on June 15, 2002 when Taylor Twellman and Brian Kamlar scored in a 2-1 Revolution win.
- New England is 10-6-5 at home against Colorado, including a 7-3-4 mark at Gillette Stadium.
- The Revolution and Rapids have never met in a match outside of the MLS regular season.

PLAYER NOTES AGAINST COLORADO

- Lee Nguyen has two goals and one assist against Colorado in three career games against the Rapids with all coming in the Revs' 3-0 win at Gillette Stadium on July 30, 2014.
- Teal Bunbury also has two goals and one assist against Colorado, though all came during his time in Kansas City. He is the only current Revolution player to have scores at Dick's Sporting Goods Park, having tallied twice in a 2-2 draw with the Rapids in 2012. His assist, which came during a draw in the 2011 season also came in Commerce City.
- Kevin Alston and Andy Dorman each have two assists against the Rapids. Dorman set up both Revolution goals in a 3-2 loss to Colorado on July 4, 2006 while Alston had one during the 2011 season and one on the Revs' opening goal against Colorado last year.
- Charlie Davies has one assist against Colorado, coming in the 3-0 win over the Rapids at Gillette Stadium on July 30, 2014. The assist, which came in his first start at Gillette Stadium as a member of the Revolution since joining the club in August 2013, was the first of Davies' New England career.
- Juan Agudelo and Daigo Kobayashi each have one assist against the Rapids with Kobayashi collecting his in Oct. 2013 as a member of Vancouver Whitecaps FC and Agudelo getting his in July 2011 while with the New York Red Bulls.
- Bobby Shuttleworth is 1-1-0 with a 1.00 GAA, seven saves against the Rapids. He collected the win and a clean sheet in the Revs' 3-0 win on July 30, 2014.
- Brad Knighton is 0-1-2 in three appearances against Colorado - all with Vancouver - with a 2.33 GAA and 16 saves.

LAST MEETING

New England 3, Colorado 0

July 30, 2014 – Gillette Stadium (Foxborough, Mass.)

Lee Nguyen factored in all three goals as the Revolution snapped an eight-game losing streak with a 3-0 win over the Colorado Rapids at Gillette Stadium. Nguyen opened the scoring in the 10th minute and then doubled the Revs' lead in the 75th minute with a perfectly placed free kick, just after Colorado was reduced to 10-men. Three minutes later, Nguyen helped set up Kelyn Rowe for the Revs' third and final goal of the game, giving the club its first win since May 24. Charlie Davies made his first start at Gillette Stadium since joining the Revs on August 9, 2013 and Bobby Shuttleworth made three saves to post his fifth shutout of the season, and the team's first since May 11, 2014.

REVOLUTION TEAM NOTES

A BRAND NEW LOOK

On Saturday, for the first time this season, the Revs will wear their new second kit. Inspired by the flag of New England, which is located on the back of the neck of New England's primary kit, the Revs' second kit was debuted at an event at House of Blues Boston early last month. It features a red and white jersey with green trim around the neck to go along with red shorts and red socks. The Revs' first primary red kit since 1999, the flag of New England now lives in honor on every jersey that the Revs will wear this season.

A FIRST WIN

Just as they did in 2014, the Revs claimed their first win of the 2015 season with a 2-1 victory in their fourth game of the year, against the San Jose Earthquakes. Only twice have the Revs gone winless in their first four games of the season, with the club opening the 2000 season with an 0-2-2 record and then going 0-6-0 to open the 2001 campaign.

All-time, the Revs are 6-6-7 in the game following their first win of the season, though they did suffer a 2-0 loss away to D.C. United last year, one week after earning their first win over the Earthquakes.

ROWE NAMED PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Revolution midfielder Kelyn Rowe was named the Major League Soccer Player of the Week for the fourth week of the MLS season on Tuesday. Rowe scored both of the Revs' goals in Saturday's 2-1 win over San Jose at Gillette Stadium to take the award, which is voted on by the North American Soccer Reporters (NASR). This is the second time in his career that the NASR has selected Rowe as the player of the week and the first since August 2013.

Rowe opened the scoring in the 21st minute, receiving a pass from Lee Nguyen at the top of the San Jose area and hitting a right-footed shot that deflected off San Jose defender Shaun Francis and past goalkeeper David Bingham, giving New England a 1-0 advantage. The goal was the Revs first of the 2015 season, breaking the teams streak of 291 scoreless minutes to start the year.

The Revolution midfielder added a second goal in the 37th minute, finishing a move that began with a Chris Tierney free kick from the left flank. Tierney's curling ball found the head of Darrius Barnes and Rowe reacted first to the knockdown, volleying a shot past Bingham from close range, making the score 2-0 in favor of the Revs.

This was the second multi-goal game of Rowe's MLS career and his first since August 2013 when he scored twice in a 5-1 win over the Philadelphia Union. Rowe also set career-highs with seven shots and five shots on goal in the win over San Jose as the Revs collected their first win of the season and improved to 1-0-1 at home this season.

Since the start of the 2012 MLS season, Rowe is one of just three Revolution players to be named the MLS Player of the Week. He has won the award twice, as has Lee Nguyen (once in 2012 and once in 2014), while Diego Fagundez took the prize once in 2013. Those are the only three current Revolution players to have taken home a player of the week award while with New England.

THE FIRST OF THE SEASON

While the Revs got their first win of the season last weekend, the club also got its first goal of the year with Kelyn Rowe putting New England in front 1-0 in the 21st minute. Rowe is the 16th different player to score a season-opening goal for New England with the club also getting their first goal of the year via an own goal in 1997 and 2014.

Imad Baba (1998 and 2000) and Taylor Twellman (2003 and 2007) are the only two players to have scored the Revs' first goal of the year multiple times. Starting in 1996 when Rob Ukrop scored the first goal in Revolution history, the following players have scored the first goal of the season for New England: Ukrop (1996), Own Goal (Eric Dade – 1997), Baba (1998), Giovanni Savarese (1997), Baba (2000), Leonel Alvarez (2001), Alex Pineda Chacon (2002), Twellman (2003), Jay Heaps (2004), Pat Noonan (2005), Clint Dempsey (2006), Twellman (2007), Steve Ralston (2008), Kheli Dube (2009), Abdoulie Mansally (2010), Shalrie Joseph (2011), Saer Sene (2012), Jerry Bengtson (2013), Own Goal (Victor Bernardez – 2014) and Rowe (2015).

Rowe now has 17 goals and 18 assists in 94 regular-season games since being drafted by the club in the first round of the 2012 MLS SuperDraft. In 2013, he set career-highs with seven goals and eight assists in 33 games. He scored the Revs' third goal in their 3-0 win over Colorado last season for his first-ever goal against the Rapids.

FIRST ASSISTS TOO

While Rowe scored the Revs first goal of the year, Daigo Kobayashi and Lee Nguyen were each credited with assists on it. This is the first time that either had assisted on the club's first goal of the year. For Kobayashi, who was traded to New England ahead of the start of the 2014 season, it was the fifth assist of his Revolution career with the club going 5-0-0 when he has an assist. Nguyen's assist was the 15th of his career in the regular season with all coming as a member of the Revs, who are 11-1-1 when Nguyen has an assist.

Rowe's goal was the first time that Kobayashi and Nguyen had assisted on the same goal while two of Kobayashi's four assists last year set up goals by Nguyen, the Revs MVP in 2014.

GOING IN DIFFERENT DIRECTIONS

On July 30, 2014, the Revolution beat Colorado 3-0 at Gillette Stadium behind two goals and an assist from Lee Nguyen. That victory snapped the Revs' club-record eight-game losing streak and came on the heels of the Rapids equaling their biggest win of the season, a 3-0 victory over Chivas USA. Since that day however, the two sides have gone in vastly different directions.

Starting with that game, New England went on to win the Eastern Conference Championship, going 13-3-3 in all competitions to close out 2014 before opening 2015 with a 1-2-1 record. The Revs were 8-0-2 in their last 10 regular-season home games and 3-2-1 in the six regular-season road games after the July win over Colorado. In the postseason, the Revs went 3-1-1, with the lone loss coming in MLS Cup when the Revs suffered a 2-1 loss to the LA Galaxy in extra time.

The Rapids have not enjoyed the same level of success since that late July night in Foxborough. They are yet to win since that game, which started an 0-12-2 finish to the 2014 season in which they were outscored 38-12. They have not won this season either, going 0-0-3 to stretch their winless streak to 17 games.

A New England win or draw on Saturday would see the Rapids tie the record for the longest winless streak in MLS history at 18 games. Real Salt Lake currently holds that mark, having failed to win a game between August 10, 2005 and May 6, 2006. RSL was 0-16-2 during their record winless streak, taking just two of a possible 54 points while Colorado is 0-12-5 in theirs for five of a possible 51 points.

TOUGH PLACE TO PLAY

The Revolution are still looking for their first-ever win at Dick's Sporting Goods Park, which opened in 2007. In six previous visits to the Commerce City, Colo. venue, the Revs are 0-3-3, including a 2-1 loss on July 17, 2013 in their most recent visit. New England is the only MLS team that has played continuously since the stadium opened on April 7, 2007 not to have won there. In their history, the Revs are just 3-13-4 on the road against the Rapids with the first win coming at Mile High Stadium in 1997 and the other two coming at INVESCO Field at Mile High in 2001 and 2002.

Dick's Sporting Goods Park is one of six currently used MLS venues in which the Revs have never won. They are 0-4-1 all-time at Real Salt Lake's Rio Tinto Stadium, 0-1-1 at Portland's Providence Park and 0-1-0 at Vancouver's BC Place. Additionally, the Revs dropped a 2-0 decision to NYC FC last month in their only ever visit to Yankee Stadium. New England has also never won a regular-season game at Red Bull Arena in Harrison, New Jersey, though they did claim a 2-1 victory at the venue in the first leg of the 2014 Eastern Conference Championship.

Over the final seven months of the regular season, the Revs will visit Providence Park, Yankee Stadium and Red Bull Arena in hopes of claiming their first-ever regular-season win at each venue, while also travelling to the Citrus Bowl to face Orlando City SC for the first time.

A COMMON RESULT

The Revolution and Rapids have played a total of seven games this season and four have finished 0-0. All three of Colorado's games have ended scoreless while New England played to a 0-0 draw with Montreal in their home opener on March 21. In 41 previous meetings between the two sides, the Revs and Rapids have finished 0-0 just five times. The most recent of these was on May 7, 2011 at Gillette Stadium while the only 0-0 draw between the sides in Colorado came exactly seven years earlier, on May 7, 2004.

POINTING TO THE SPOT

The Revolution are the only team in MLS this season to be whistled for multiple penalty kicks. In the season opener against Seattle on March 8, Clint Dempsey gave the Sounders a 1-0 lead in the 25th minute after referee Armando Villarreal whistled a foul on Juan Agudelo inside the penalty area. Last weekend against San Jose, Scott Caldwell was adjudged to have fouled the Earthquakes' Clarence Goodson inside the area in the 61st minute, leading to a penalty that was converted a minute later by Chris Wondolowski, cutting New England's lead to 2-1.

In 2014, the Revs conceded five penalties with Bobby Shuttleworth saving two of the four that he faced and Brad Knighton allowing one in second half stoppage time of a 5-3 road win over Philadelphia. New England was 1-2-1 last season when conceding a penalty, though neither of Shuttleworth's penalty stops came in a Revolution win.

There has not been a penalty given to either side in a Revolution-Rapids game since July 23, 2011 when each side was given one in a 2-2 draw at Dick's Sporting Goods Park. Caleb Folan converted a penalty for Colorado in the 65th minute, tying the score at 1-1 while Shalrie Joseph converted for New England in the 90th minute, tying the score at 2-2 and helping the Revs earn a point.

Neither New England or Colorado have been awarded a penalty this season with the Revs last taking one on July 16, 2014 against the LA Galaxy - a stretch of 20 straight regular-season games without a penalty - and the Rapids last earning one on Sept. 13, 2014 against Portland.

DONE WITH MARCH

Last weekend's win over San Jose allowed the Revs to finish the month of March with a 1-2-1 record for four points. This is the second straight season in which the Revs finished March with 1-2-1 record, going 1-0-1 at home and 0-2-0 on the road in each season. In four years under head coach Jay Heaps, the Revs are just 5-8-3 in March compared to 3-5-2 in April with four games still to come this month, beginning with Saturday's game against Colorado.

All-time, the Revs are 9-13-6 in the month of March compared to 27-32-15 in April.

Saturday's game is just the fourth all-time meeting between the Revolution and Rapids in April, though this is the first time that they have met in Colorado in the month. New England is 1-2-0 all-time against the Rapids in April with the lone win coming via a shootout on April 26, 1997.

THE CAPTAIN RETURNS

The Revolution welcomed captain Jose Goncalves back to the lineup last weekend against San Jose. The Portuguese defender was suspended for the home opener against Montreal after being sent off in the second half of the 2-0 loss to NYC FC on March 15. Now in his third season with the club, Goncalves has appeared in 64 games since signing with the Revs in 2013, missing just eight games since coming to the club. The Revs are 4-2-2 in games that Goncalves has missed compared to 28-24-12 when he is in the lineup. They have kept a clean sheet in three of the eight games that he missed compared to 20 in the 64 that he has played in, including a 3-0 win over Colorado last season.

GAME 600

Saturday's game against the Rapids will be the 600th game in Revolution history. One of eight teams to have played in all 20 seasons of MLS, the Revs are 226-257-116 all-time in the regular season, scoring 831 goals while allowing 905. They are 2-3-0 when reaching a new century of games in the past, with one of those losses come via a shootout.

Six current Revs were in the 18-man squad for the club's 500th game nearly three years ago with Kevin Alston, Lee Nguyen, Kelyn Rowe and Chris Tierney playing in that game while Darrius Barnes and Bobby Shuttleworth were on the bench. Alston, Barnes and Tierney all played in the club's 400th game, as did current Revolution head coach Jay Heaps (who also played in the Revs' 200th and 300th games) while Brad Knighton was on the bench for that one.

- Game 100 – 0-1 Shootout Loss vs. Columbus (April 17, 1999)
- Game 200 – 2-3 loss at Kansas City (June 22, 2002)
- Game 300 – 1-0 win at Real Salt Lake (Sept. 3, 2005)
- Game 400 – 1-0 win at San Jose (March 29, 2009)
- Game 500 – 0-1 loss at New York (April 28, 2012)

HOT AT HOME

Last weekend's 2-1 win over San Jose extended the Revs' home unbeaten streak in all competitions, which dates back to July 30, 2014, to 12 games. Since a 3-0 win over Colorado on July 30 last season, a win that snapped the Revs' eight-game losing streak, New England has gone 9-0-3 at Gillette Stadium, including a win and a draw in the 2014 MLS Cup Playoffs.

In just the regular season, the Revs are now unbeaten in their last 10, going 8-0-2 in that time. They are now just two games shy of tying the club record for the longest regular-season home unbeaten streak of 12. That run began on September 18, 2004 and ran through July 25, 2005 with the club going 9-0-3 in that time while also winning their lone home playoff game.

THREE FULL TIMERS

Through the first four games of the season, just three Revolution players have been on the field for all 360 minutes that the club has played. Goalkeeper Bobby Shuttleworth, center back Andrew Farrell and left back Chris Tierney are yet to miss a minute of action this season for New England. The Rapids have also had just three players play every minute of their season so far, though they have played one less game than the Revolution.

Last season, Shuttleworth led the team with 2,880 minutes played while Farrell was second with 2,840, which was the most for a field player on the club. Tierney was limited to 1,930 minutes last season, his fewest minutes played since 2009, after missing 10 games because of injuries.

At the opposite end of the spectrum, eight players have yet to appear in a game for head coach Jay Heaps. Goalkeepers Brad Knighton and Trevor Spangenberg are yet to play, as are defenders Donnie Smith (who was injured for the first three games) and London Woodberry. They are joined by midfielders Jermaine Jones (who just began training with the club last week) and Tyler Rudy as well as forward Timi Mulgrew. Fellow forward Jerry Bengtson has been on loan in Argentina since last summer but remains on the club's roster.

NGUYEN CLOSE TO 100

Despite missing the season-opening loss to Seattle because of an irritation in his right groin muscle, Revolution midfielder Lee Nguyen is on the verge of becoming the 21st player in club history to make 100 regular-season appearance with the Revs. Acquired by the club ahead of the start of the 2012 season, Nguyen has 27 goals and 15 assists in 98 regular-season games, meaning that he could play his 100th game as early as April 11 against Columbus. He is one of six players in club history with at least 25 goals and 15 assists and one of six to be named the club's MVP multiple times, doing so in 2012 and 2014.

In 2014, Nguyen scored two of his 18 goals - the most ever by a midfielder in MLS - in the Revs' 3-0 win over Colorado on July 30 while adding an assist on the club's third goal in that game. That was the first of three multi-goal games for Nguyen last season and his first goal in that game was one of Nguyen's club record nine game-winning goals.

DATE CHANGE

Last week, the Revolution announced that the club's home game on Wednesday, April 15 against the Chicago Fire will now be played on Saturday, June 13. The game will still kick off at 7:30 p.m. That game, which will be the first of three meetings this season between the Revs and Fire, and the only one to be played at Gillette Stadium, will now be shown live on Comcast SportsNet.

"We originally agreed to play this game on a midweek date so as to avoid a FIFA international date on June 13, but with the U.S. National Team scheduled to play against Mexico on April 15, we believe that this new date will be better for our fans" Revolution president Brian Bilello said. "We thank Major League Soccer, the Chicago Fire and Comcast SportsNet for helping to accommodate this change."

HELLO...

The Revs added six players to the club's roster for this season, starting in mid-December with the acquisition of defender Jeremy Hall, who was acquired in a trade with Toronto FC in January with New England sending the club's fourth round pick in the 2015 MLS SuperDraft to the Reds. Then, on the day of that SuperDraft, the Revs traded their second round pick (33rd overall) to Seattle in exchange for the rights to forward Sean Okoli, who signed with New England four days later.

Late January saw the club open its preseason and complete the return of Juan Agudelo, who signed a multi-year contract with the club on January 30. Agudelo, who played for the Revs in 2013, spent 2014 in Europe, playing on loan with FC Utrecht of the Dutch Eredivisie for the second half of the 2013-14 season and trying to secure a work permit in order to complete a move to Stoke City of the English Premier League.

The Revs have since signed four more players, all of whom had been on trial with the club throughout the preseason. London Woodberry, a former FC Dallas Homegrown Player who played in the USL last season was signed on Feb. 28, as was midfielder Tyler Rudy, who was undrafted after a four-year college career at Georgetown. New England's roster grew to 25 ahead of the season opener against Seattle when the club officially signed goalkeeper Trevor Spangenberg, who had made one appearance as a rookie with Chivas USA last season. Finally, Timi Mulgrew was officially added to the roster ahead of the home opener against Montreal, signing with the club after playing in six games during the preseason.

... GOODBYE

While those six came in, 12 players departed the club during the offseason. The exodus began the day after MLS Cup when Dimitry Imbongo and Geoffrey Castillon were traded to the Colorado Rapids along with a second round pick in the SuperDraft in exchange for Joe Nasco and a third round SuperDraft pick. Just a few days later, Patrick Mullins and Tony Taylor were each selected by New York City FC in the Expansion Draft.

In addition to those four, Andre Akpan, Larry Jackson, Shalrie Joseph, Steven McCarthy, Jossimar Sanchez, Luis Soffner and Alec Sundly did not have their options picked up.

Last month, A.J. Soares, the Revs' reigning Defender of the Year and Players' Player of the Year signed with Norwegian club Viking FK on a free transfer after his contract with New England had expired.

HEAPS BEGINS FOURTH SEASON ON THE BENCH

Revolution head coach Jay Heaps is in his fourth season in charge of the club that he played for from 2001 until his retirement after the 2009 season. Already the second longest tenured coach in club history, Heaps has increased the club's win total in each of his first three seasons, leading the Revs to nine wins in 2012 (after a club record low of five wins in 2011, Steve Nicol's final season in charge), 14 in 2013 and 17 last season, tying a club record.

Only the second coach (besides Nicol) to lead the Revs to the postseason on multiple occasions, Heaps entered the 2015 campaign as the fifth longest tenured coach in MLS. Only Bruce Arena (LA Galaxy), Ben Olsen (D.C. United), Sigi Schmid (Seattle Sounders FC) and Peter Vermes (Sporting Kansas City) have been with their respective clubs longer. He has a 41-43-22 regular-season record and a 4-2-1 mark in the postseason, having led the Revs to the playoffs in each of the last two seasons.

PLAYING AS THE CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS

The Revolution won their fifth Eastern Conference Championship in 2014, defeating the New York Red Bulls 4-3 on aggregate for the right to play for MLS Cup. That was the fifth time that New England had reached MLS Cup, good for the third-most in MLS history, and the first since 2007, equaling the longest stretch in club history without an appearance in the league's championship.

The Revs have finished each season as reigning conference champions with more wins than losses and have failed to reach the Conference Championship just once.

COMING OFF A RECORD TYING SEASON

The Revolution tied a club record with 17 regular-season wins in 2014, going 17-13-4 for 55 points. While the 55 points were the second-most in club history, four less than the club record of 59 points in 2005, the 17 wins were equal to the club's total from that season. One year after registering 17 wins in 2005, the Revs returned to MLS Cup, going 12-8-12 for 48 points and then defeating Chicago and D.C. United to return to MLS Cup for the second consecutive season.

New England's 17 wins last season were tied for the second-most in MLS last season along with D.C. United and the LA Galaxy. Only Seattle, with 20 victories, had more than the Revs.

FLAG OF NEW ENGLAND

Long before the sewing of the American flag as we know it -- before there were the United States, and hundreds of years before its slightly-altered stars and stripes emerged on the Revolution club badge -- a flag of a different design was flown proudly in the early colonies that now comprise New England.

Historic Revolutionary War artist John Trumbull's depiction of the Battle of Bunker Hill featured a red flag with a green pine tree, which often served as a representation of the New England colonies. While historians argue the exact dates of origin of this early flag, over time, the design stood out as a symbol of honor for the territory.

It was a reflection of unification. It's flown as an homage to the region's pride and passion.

No group has more pride or passion than Revolution supporters, who have flown the flag of New England in Gillette Stadium, and the former Foxboro Stadium, since the club's inception in 1996.

With such a deep connection to both club and country on many different levels, the flag of New England now adorns the Revolution uniforms -- both as testament to the region's revolutionary history, and as a visual representation of the club's supporters.

Situated at the base of the neck on the back of the club's primary jersey and the serving as the inspiration for the club's secondary kit, the flag of New England now lives in honor on every New England Revolution jersey.

With the flag of New England playing such a prominent role in the Revs' uniforms, the players and supporters alike are reminded that the club holds true to its community's historic roots and continues to proudly represent the historic region of New England, while symbolically bringing the supporters onto the field for each and every game.

Years coaching in MLS: 4

Career Coaching Record: 41-43-21

Postseason Record: 4-2-1

Jay Heaps is in his fourth season as the head coach of the New England Revolution after taking the reigns of the club following the 2011 season. In his first three years on the bench, Heaps transformed the Revs from a five-win club that finished at the bottom of the Eastern Conference to the 2014 Eastern Conference Championship while playing an open and attractive brand of soccer that has come to define the new-look Revolution.

Over the course of his time with the Revolution, Heaps has transformed the club's roster with just five players (Kevin Alston, Darrius Barnes, Diego Fagundez, Bobby Shuttleworth and Chris Tierney) remaining from when he was named the sixth head coach in club history in November 2011. Smart drafting has yielded players like Andrew Farrell and Kelyn Rowe while players such as Teal Bunbury, Charlie Davies and Lee Nguyen have all seen their MLS careers revitalized under the tutelage of the 38-year-old's tutelage. That group, along with the likes of Juan Agudelo, Scott Caldwell, captain Jose Goncalves and Jermaine Jones - all signed by New England since Heaps was named head coach - forms the core of today's New England Revolution.

That group, with the exception of Agudelo, nearly led the Revs to their first MLS Cup championship in 2014, only to fall just shy, losing 2-1 in extra time to the host LA Galaxy. The Revs equaled a club record for wins that season and ended the year on a 9-1-1 run that saw the club finish second in the Eastern Conference with 55 points, which were the second-most in club history. The team was even better in the playoffs, scoring a record seven goals to beat Columbus 7-3 on aggregate before knocking off New York 4-3 on aggregate in the Eastern Conference Championship for the first time since 2007 when Heaps was still playing for the Revs.

Prior to being named the head coach of the Revolution, Heaps spent nine seasons as a player with the club. He ranks third in club history with 243 regular season games played and helped New England reach MLS Cup four times while winning the 2007 U.S. Open Cup and the 2008 SuperLiga. He served as an analyst on Revolution television broadcasts in 2010
